

Police lodge promotes traffic safety

Concern for the safety of pedestrians and motorists by the Red Rose Lodge 16, Fraternal Order of Police has prompted that organization to become the first local private police group to sponsor a safety billboard advertisement. The above sign is located on S. Queen Street, just north of Englishside. F.O.P. approved the display as a result of recent collaboration with law enforcement agencies and private citizens, who are alarmed about the current record-high number of highway traffic deaths in the county. The sign will remain on display for three months and will be given a new look in November.
